Hawker With His Navigator Is Lost Somewhere At Sea

London, May 20—The Sopwith bi plane that carried Harry G. Hawker and his navigator, Lieut. Commander Grieve, from New Foundland, in the attempt to cross the Atlantic, was given up as lost this afternoon.

By Earle C. Reeves.

London, May 20.—The Sopwith bi plane in which Harry G. Hawker and his navigator, Lieut. Commander Mackenzie Grieve attempted to fly across the Atlantic, has fallen into the sea, admiralty officials now believe, and it is probable that both men have been lost.

No further reports concerning Hawker had been received here this forenoon. More than 40 hours has elapsed since the Sopwith jumped off from New Foundland on the 1,950 mile flight to Ireland and it is certain that Hawker's supply of fuel was exhausted hours ago, even had he managed to keep in the air. Both the admiralty and air ministry announced this morning that absolutely no authentic news has received of the Sopwith since her departure from New Foundland.

Reports came from various sources last night that Hawker's plane had been sighted, that he had fallen into the sea and that he had sent wireless messages to incoming ships. Investigation disproved most of these messages and the admiralty discredited the sources of others.

A rough sea was running off the Irish coast late yesterday and doubt was expressed that the tiny emergency boat fastened over the Sopwith's rear hood could weather such waves more than a few minutes, even if Hawker succeeded in launching her. Both men

HAWKER'S WIFE STILL HOPEFUL.
London, May 20.—Mrs. Harry Hawker, wife of the missing Sopwith pilot, was one of the few persons who today held out hope that Hawker and his navigator, Grieve, may still be alive.
"God will protect my man," she said with a brave effort to suppress the tears. "but if he is lost, it was against big odds. No man could do more."

carried non-sinkable rubber suits, but the officials here had little hope that they would be picked up in time to save them.

Even many of Hawker's associates abandoned hope early today when the report that the Sopwith had landed in the sea 40 miles off the mouth of the river Shannon was discredited. A late dispatch from Queenstown denied that the admiralty wireless there had picked up such a message.

The Central News agency carries a report that Hawker has landed in the sea off the Irish coast and that a boat is going to his rescue, but this, like other reports is without confirmation.

AT THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Marshal Foch in conversation with his assistant, Gen. Weygand and Gen. Wilson, the British commander. (C) Underwood & Underwood.

PRESIDENT ADVOCATES EQUAL SUFFRAGE, REPEAL OF LUXURY TAXES, HIGH LEVIES ON INCOMES IN MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

Washington, May 20—President Wilson today called upon the 66th congress to amend or to repeal the war time prohibition measure in so far as it applies to wines and beers.

In his message—the first that he has not delivered in person since taking up the reins of the government—the president asserted his belief that the demobilization of the army had progressed to such an extent that it would be "entirely safe" to remove the ban upon the manufacture and sale of wines and beers. He plainly indicated that had he the authority he would take the necessary action himself; but lacking it, he urged the congress to act.

The president also urged:

1. Adoption of the equal suffrage amendment.
2. Certain revision of the tariff laws.
3. Repeal of the so-called luxury taxes and continued high levies on incomes, excess profits and estates.
4. Legislation to safeguard the public interest before the telephone and telegraph systems are turned back to private ownership.
5. Laws to facilitate American enterprise in foreign trade.
6. Assistance for returning soldiers in finding jobs for which they are fitted.

The message does not touch upon the international situation, but the president promises to address the congress upon the matters on his return. "It would be premature to discuss them or to express a judgment about them before they are brought to their complete formulation by the agreements which are now being sought at the table of the conference," the President asserts.

The president's only reference to the League of Nations is but a passing one, but at the same time it reflects his confidence that the league will be communicated. Dealing with the necessity for national action to bring about an enlightened labor policy, the president observes:

"Agencies of international counsel and suggestions are presently to be created in connection with the League of Nations in this very field; but it is national action that must bring about the actual reforms."

Recommending the repeal of the taxes upon retail sales, the president pointed out that they are "unequal in incidence," on industries and individuals that their collection is difficult and expensive. While they were justified by the pressing wartime necessities, he observed, "they can scarcely find sufficient justification under the easier circumstances of peace."

In urging certain tariff changes, the president points out the close relation that has existed between the manufacturers of dvestuffs on the one hand, and of explosives and poisonous gases on the other. He then says:

"Although the United States will gladly and unhesitatingly join in the program of international disarmament it will, nevertheless, be a policy of obvious prudence to make certain of the successful maintenance of many strong and well equipped chemical plants, with which we will be brought into competition, and may well be again, a thoroughly knit monopoly capable of exercising a competition of a peculiarly insidious and dangerous kind."

The text of the message follows:

"Gentlemen of the Congress: I deeply regret my inability to be present at the opening of the extraordinary session of the congress. It still seems to be my duty to take part in the councils of the peace conference and contribute what I can to the solution of the innumerable questions to whose settlement it has had to address itself. For they are questions which affect the peace of the whole world and from them, therefore, the United States cannot stand apart. I deemed it my duty to call the congress together at this time because it was not wise to postpone longer the provisions which must be made for the support of the government. Many of the appropriations which are absolutely necessary for the maintenance of the government and the fulfillment of its varied obligations for the fiscal year 1919-1920 have not yet been made; the end of the present fiscal year is at hand; and action upon these appropriations can no longer be indefinitely delayed. It is necessary, therefore, that I should immediately call our attention to this critical need. It is hardly necessary for me to urge that it may receive your prompt attention. * * * * * "The question which stands at the front of all others in every country amidst the present great awakening is the question of labor; and perhaps I can speak of it with as great advantage while engrossed in the consideration of interests which affect all countries alike as I could at home and amidst the interests which naturally most affect my thought, because they are the interests of our own people.

"We cannot go any further in our present direction. We have already gone too far. We cannot live our right life as a nation or achieve our proper success as an industrial community if capital and labor are to continue to be antagonistic instead of being partners, if they are to continue to distrust one another and contrive how they can get the better of one another or what perhaps amounts to the same thing. Calculate by what form and degree of coercion they can manage to extort on the one hand work enough to make enterprise profitable. On the other justice and fair treatment enough to make life tolerable. That bad road has turned out a blind alley. It is no thoroughfare to real prosperity. We must find another leading in another direction and to a very different destination. It must lead not merely to accommodation but also to a genuine co-operation and partnership based upon a real community of interest and participation in control. * * * * *

"Peculiar and very stimulating conditions await our commerce and industrial enterprise in the immediate future. Unusual opportunities will presently present themselves to our merchants and producers in foreign markets and large fields for profitable investment will be opened to our free capital. * * * * *

"The main thing we shall have to care for is that our taxation shall rest as lightly as possible on the productive resources of the country; that its rate shall be stable and that it shall be constant in its revenue yielding power. We have found the main source from which it must be drawn. I take it for granted that its mainstays will henceforth be the income tax, the excess profits tax and the estate tax. All these can be so adjusted to yield constant and adequate returns and yet not constitute a too grievous burden on the tax payers. A revision of the income tax has already been provided for by the act of 1918, but I think you will find that further changes can be made to advantage both in the rates of the tax and in the method of its collection. The excess profits tax need not long be maintained at the rates which were necessary while the enormous expenses of the war had to be borne; but it should be the basis for a permanent system which will reach undue profits without discouraging the enterprise and activity of our business men. The tax on inheritances, too, no doubt to be reconsidered in its relation to the fiscal systems of the several states but it certainly ought to remain a permanent part of the fiscal system of the federal government also.

"Many of the minor taxes provided for in the revenue legislation of 1917 and 1918, though no doubt made necessary by the pressing necessities of the war time can hardly find sufficient justification under the easier circumstances of peace and can now happily be got rid of. Among these, I have in mind, are the excises upon many manufacturers and the taxes upon retail sales. They are unequal in the incidence on different industries and on different individuals. Their collection is different and exhaustive.

Those which are levied upon articles sold at retail are largely evaded by the readjustment of retail prices. On the other hand, I should assume that it is expedient to maintain a considerable range of indirect taxes; and the fact that alcoholic liquors will presently no longer afford a source of revenue by taxation, makes it more necessary that the field should be carefully restudied in order that equivalent sources of revenue may be found which it will be legitimate and not burdensome to draw upon. But you have at hand in the treasury department many experts who can advise you upon the matters better than I can. I can only suggest the lines of a permanent and workable system, and the placing of the taxes where they will least hamper the life of the people. * * * * *

"Will you not permit me, turning from those matters, to speak once more and very earnestly of the proposed amendment to the constitution which would extend the suffrage to women and which passed the house of representatives at the last session of the congress? It seems to me that every consideration of justice and of public advantage calls for the immediate adoption of that amendment and its submission forthwith to the legislatures of the several states. * * * * *

"The telegraph and telephone lines will, of course, be returned to their owners so soon as the transfer can be effected without administrative confirmation. So soon, that is, as the change can be made with least possible inconvenience to the public and to the owners themselves. The railroads will be handed over to their owners at the end of the calendar year; if I were in immediate contact with the administration questions which must govern the transfer of the telegraph and telephone lines. * * * * *

"The demobilization of the military forces of the country has progressed to such a point that it seems to me entirely safe now to remove the ban upon the manufacture and sale of wines and beers, but I am advised that without further legislation I have not the legal authority to remove the present restrictions. I therefore, recommend that the act approved Nov. 21, 1918, entitled 'an act to enable the secretary of agriculture to carry out, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, the purposes of the act entitled 'an act to provide further for the national security and defense by stimulating agriculture and facilitating the distribution of agricultural products,' and for other purposes be amended or repealed insofar that it applies to wines and beers. * * * * *

"I sincerely trust that I shall very soon be at my post in Washington again report upon the matters which made my presence at the peace table apparently imperative and to put myself at the service of the congress in every matter of administration or counsel that may seem to demand executive action or advice. * * * * *

BRITISH BOMBARD THE BOLSHEVIKI

Copenhagen, May 20.—British dreadnoughts in the Black Sea have bombarded the Bolsheviki positions at Kertch, in Crimea, said a wireless message from Moscow today quoting an official statement that had been given out there.

NC-4 SEAPLANE MAKES HOP OFF FROM HORTA

Washington, May 20.—The NC-4 hopped off from Horta for Ponta Delgada early today, the navy department was advised by Admiral Jackson. She will remain at Ponta Delgada until weather conditions are favorable for the flight to Lisbon, the dispatch added.

The hop off from Horta was at 8:40 a. m., Washington time.

The NC-4 arrived at Ponta Delgada at 10:24 Washington time, Admiral Jackson later notified the department.

The distance between Horta and Ponta is approximately 150 miles and Commander Read made the trip at the average rate of 98 miles an hour. Admiral Jackson reported.

TERRIFIC GALE DOES DAMAGE ON LAKE ERIE

Sandusky, Ohio, May 20.—A terrific gale sweeping over Lake Erie from the northeast today caused heavy damage to docks, lake craft and other property along Lake Erie and the shores of Sandusky bay. Much damage is also reported in the lake island region.

All boats are being held in Lake ports on account of the storm.

ADDITIONAL STATE AID GIVEN SCHOOLS UNDER NEW MEASURE

Columbus, May 20.—Making a statement in which he said the greatest trouble exists in the hill sections of the state, where coal property is not on the tax duplicate at its true value, Governor Cox signed the Freeman bill, which gives additional state aid to weak school districts.

"It is to be hoped," says the governor, "that before the general assembly completes its work in taxation, the conditions creating weak districts will have been corrected."

The Federal bill, providing for $650,000 for a new institution for the feeble minded is approved by Governor Cox.

With the statement to the legislature that there is too much factional feeling at Wilberforce University and recommending a reorganization of its management, the governor vetoed the Beatty bill, which provided seven instead of nine members of the board of directors.

Although it is predicted that he will veto the Busby-Fouts highway measure, Governor Cox still has it before him. Republican leader reiterates that if it is vetoed, the bill, will be passed over the veto.

SPECIAL CRIME GRAND JURY'S WORK ABOUT DONE IN CLEVELAND

Cleveland, May 20.—The special crime grand jury today neared the end of its investigation of gambling in Cleveland.

Interest centered today on what phase of the crime charges will be taken up next. It was reported today that the widespread activities of hold up men, auto bandits and thieves would next be probed.

With four indictments already returned all charging perjury, as a result of testimony in the gambling quiz, there was a possibility that additional ones may be forthcoming today. Ten witnesses are being examined today, before closing the gambling inquiry.
Ernest Bernstein, brother of Alex Bernstein, director of public service Wm. Lavin, city detective and Wm. H. Schwartz barber shop proprietor, the three indicted yesterday were free today, having been released shortly after their arrest late yesterday on $1,000 bonds each.

ITALY IS AFTER WORLD MONOPOLY ON QUICKSILVER

Paris, May 20.—The world's monopoly of quick silver will be in Italy's hands if the allies grant their request for territory on the Istrian peninsula which contains a big quicksilver mine. It is understood, however, that the allies are opposed to granting this demand of Italy's. There are only three quicksilver mines in the world and Italy owns two of them.

The correspondent was privileged to day that a settlement of the Fiume problem is at hand along the lines of internationalization.

The correspondent has privileged to see the reply of the allied and associated powers to the note of the German delegation protesting against the political terms. The reply is typical of all the others in its frankness, informing the Teutons that their shipping would not have been taken over if they had not indulged in inhuman submarine warfare which resulted in the world being short of tonnage right now.

Regarding Germany's complaint over the seizure of the coal and ore mines the reply points out that this was necessary because of the German's wanton destruction of French mines.

The allied note points out that the terms will be of advantage to the Germans because the vast numbers of men that were formerly engaged solely in the military service can now turn to peaceful purposes instead of preparations for warfare and thus create new sources of wealth to meet changed conditions.

HEAD OF GERMAN DELEGATION MAY NOT SIGN TREATY

Paris, May 20.—The Petit Journal stated today that it understands in official circles that Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, will not sign the treaty, although it will be signed by two councillors of the German empire who are due to arrive at Versailles this week.

The sudden return of Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau from Spa indicates however that the German foreign minister may yet change his mind and affix his signature. The court is said to be uncompromisingly opposed to several clauses of the treaty and refuses to bind Germany to their acceptance. President Ebert and Premier Schiedemann thereupon delegated two new plenipotentiaries with instructions to sign.

PERSHING CANCELS PROPOSED VISIT TO GREAT BRITAIN

London, May 20.—General Pershing has cancelled his proposed visit to England, for which elaborate preparations had been made. It was learned today that it was considered necessary for him to remain in France.

It was reported from Paris that the American commander in chief might postpone his visit to England until after Germany had given a definite answer on the peace treaty. President Wilson is understood to have requested him to remain because of the possibility that military measures might be needed in case Germany refused to sign.

WILMINGTON BEATS CEDARVILLE TEAM

Taking advantage of the wildness of R. Collins and hitting him hard in the pinches, Wilmington College baseball team defeated Cedarville College in the Quaker City Saturday afternoon by the score of 8-2.

The Clinton county outfit took the advantage early in the afternoon's pastime, annexing a tally in the second and third innings and winning the game in the seventh. In the eighth the balloon went up, the Quakers annexing eight runs. It was in the eighth also that Cedarville saved them selves from a shut out when two runs crossed the plate.

The lineup: Wilmington—Hildebrand ss; C. Boring c; Regan 2b; R. Boring p; Smith 3b; Langley cf; Shreve 1b; Carroll lf; Fisher rf; Cedarville—Coleman 1b; Bailey 3b; R. Collins p; Smith 2b; Creswell cf; W. Collins c; Rhorne lf; Huey ss; Duncan-Chestnut rf.

How You May Reduce Your Weight

Overstoutness is a very unwelcome condition, especially in the present day, when slender figures are so popular, and every reader of this paper who has noticed a tendency to put on weight will be glad to know of a new, simple home treatment that is remarkably efficient and inexpensive.

If you happen to be one of those whose weight is more than it should be, don't try to reduce by starving yourself; eat all you want, but take after each meal and at two times five grains of Phynola which you can secure at any drug store.

Phynola is destined to increase the oxygen carrying power of the blood and dissolves fatty tissue, in many cases at the rate of a pound a day. It is pleasant to take and gives remarkable results quickly and easily. Sayre & Hemphill can supply you. adv

NEW SCHEDULE OF RATES ANNOUNCED BY BELL COMPANY

The Central Union Telephone Company announces that a new schedule of rates for exchange service in Xenia has been filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, effective June 1, 1919, in which an increase of fifty cents a month has been made in the rates for individual and two-party line business service and private branch exchange trunk lines.

Manager Cleaver states that the rates for Central Union service in Xenia remained unchanged for many years until December of 1917, when the rates for party line business service were slightly increased. During 1918 the company was forced by the greatly increased cost of furnishing service to seek additional revenue and an increase of twenty-five cents a month was made in the residence rates. Up to this time no change has been made in the rates for individual line business.

The Xenia exchange has shown a consistent growth and there are connected with it today 2060 telephones which is about three times the number in service when the rates in effect prior to 1917 were placed in effect. The quantity and character of service demanded and the expansion of the exchange tend to increase the unit cost of the service to the company and in addition the cost of both labor and material has very greatly increased in the past few years. It has been found that the revenue is still inadequate to provide for the service requirements and the company is therefore compelled to again ask its subscribers to aid in meeting this problem by paying a slightly increased rate for business service.

Representatives of the company are calling upon each business subscriber to advise them of the change in rate and ascertain the class of service desired under the new rates.

Dogskins of Commerce.

Dogskins are made up into rugs for sleeping mats and clothing. The hair is long and thick and of all colors, from a rich black through all shades and combinations of brown, yellow and gray to pure white. The last are the finest. There are thousands of dog farms dotted over southwestern Manchuria and eastern Mongolia, where from twenty to some hundreds of dogs are raised annually as a source of wealth. For example, a bride will have as her dowry a number of dogs in proportion to her father's means. Nowhere else in the world are found such splendid dogs—of size, length of hair and quality—as the extreme cold develops there. A full-sized robe is 8 by 48 inches, taken from eight dogs. The dogs are cruelly strangled when eight months old, in midwinter, the coats being then at their best. The export in 1916 was 806,000 pieces.—Nash Evening Journal.

CATHERINE GREENE CHAPTER HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING

Catherine Greene Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was not a slacker when it came to war work.

Reports made at the annual meeting of the chapter which was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Galloway, show that since America's entrance into the war, the chapter raised over $1,100 for war work. Every member belonged to the Red Cross, and five members served as chairmen of different branches of the local Red Cross society. In addition the chapter bought bonds of every war loan issue, contributed to every campaign for war purposes, and responded to all appeals for war purposes.

At Monday's meeting the chapter voted $15 to the Salvation Army campaign for home service, $5 a month to the State D. A. R. fund for delicacies for Camp Sherman base hospital and voted the $5 given annually to the G. A. R. for Memorial Day.

Definite plans were made by the Chapter for the "style show," which is to be held at the home of the regent, Mrs. William M. Wilson, the afternoon and evening of June 5. Aside from being unique in its conception, this entertainment will be very attractive, and high class. Some of the best singers of the city have been secured to take part in the musical part, which will be very fine. There will be five soloists, Mrs. William H. McGevey, Mrs. Mary Meredith, Miss Emma Davidson, Mrs. Karl Babb, and Miss Esther Townsend of Cedarville.

Fifteen singers will sing the bridal chorus, while eighteen brides representing the style of different periods will take part in the bridal procession.

There will be a number of other features to make the affair very beautiful, and all representing old and new styles. An admission fee of 50 cents will be charged and the proceeds will be used for patriotic work. The chapter also made arrangements for a picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. John W. Peterson on the Wilmington Pike, Flag Day, June 14. The members of the Wilmington chapter will be invited to meet the local chapter and be the guests of the Xenia women on that occasion.

Officers of the chapter were re-elected for another year. They are: Regent, Mrs. William M. Wilson; vice regent, Mrs. A. C. Messenger; secretary, Miss Evelyn Galloway; registrar, Mrs. Karl Babb; treasurer.

FIUME DECLARED TO BE LEGALLY BOUND TO ITALY

Fiume, May 19 (via Milan and Paris May 20).—A committee of the National council met today and adopted a resolution declaring that the Fiume plebiscite of October 30 legally binds the city and surrounding territory to Italy. A copy of the resolution was sent to the peace conference in Paris.

The resolution states that the conference cannot detach the city from Italy without the consent of the people who are "ready to resist any act of violence committed against them."

LIGHT VOTE CAST IN BOND ELECTION

By noon only a very light vote had been cast at the polls here on either of the bond issue questions placed before the people by special election.

Cold weather and threatening rain made the day a disagreeable one. General conditions indicated a lack of interest in the election, during the morning. The streets lacked the excited groups in earnest conversation and there was little to denote that an election was in progress.

No Words Wasted.

The shortest review of a book that we have heard of was that published in an American paper recently. After mentioning the title, the author, and publisher, it passed judgment in the one word, "Shake."

Women Find Clear Skin In Simple Laxative

A sense of false modesty often prevents women from admitting that many of her ills and disorders are due primarily to constipation.

But women who know themselves have learned that headache remedies and beautifiers only cover the trouble but do not dislodge it.

What is needed is a remedy to move the bowels and stir up the torpid liver. An ever-increasing number of sensible women take a small dose of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold by druggists under that name.

It will save a woman from the habitual use of headache remedies, skin lotions and similar makeshifts. Once the bowels are emptied and regulated, the headache and the pimples and blotches disappear. It is the rational, natural method.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin lasts a family a long time, and all will find use for it from time to time. Thoughtful people are never without it in the house.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PRICE AS ALWAYS

In spite of greatly increased laboratory costs due to the war, by sacrificing profits and absorbing war taxes we have maintained the price at which this family laxative has been sold by druggists for the past 26 years. Two sizes—50c and $1.00.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Allenru relieves at once. Immediately after you start it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the tortments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases and he has instructed Sayre & Hemphill to guarantee it in every instance.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime. Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork.

By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but as men now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-feren every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back what you paid for them.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. Sayre & Hemphill and all other druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

His Romance.

"Did you fall in love with your wife at first sight?" "No, I was in love with her a long time before I ever saw her." "How can that be?" "She was a telephone girl and I fell in love with her beautiful voice as I heard it daily over the wire."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

CAPT. RIGGS THOT TIME HAD COME

What He Thought Was Heart, Lung, Stomach, Liver, Bowel and Kidney Disease, Proved to be Indigestion—Easily Relieved.

"In April 1916 I weighed 150 lbs. I began falling—lost treatment for diabetes, heart trouble, indigestion, constipation, and I know not what else. After eight months I took to my bed, as I suffered for the last time. I weighed only 107 pounds, could not eat, drink nor sleep. Food passed through me undigested. When it seemed my time had come, a friend asked me to try Dr. Parker's Treatment, with the result I improved with the first dose. Now I weigh 145 lbs., and though I am 35 years old, do my own chores and can outwalk many a younger man. I know Dr. Parker's Treatment saved my life."

People sometimes mistake symptoms of indigestion and constipation for heart, lung, kidney and other troubles. If you have sour stomach, belching, bloating, pain in stomach and bowels, offensive breath, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, headache, nervousness, loss of ambition, occasional diarrhoea, cold hands and feet, feeble circulation, Dr. Parker's Treatment for Indigestion and Constipation will make you well. Your dollar back if the first box fails.

The two central decks show how hundreds of additional cots have been built in. On the fourth deck are the mess rooms, while the upper decks have been encased so as to allow the home-coming soldiers recreation. Through this remodelling thousands of additional troops can be carried by the liner. The remodelling of the Leviathan took place at the Tietjen & Lang plant of the Todd Shipbuilding Corporation, New York. The giant imperator, which is soon to make her maiden trip since the war, is being remodelled in like manner at the Tietjen & Lang plant.

YOUR ASSISTANCE IS NEEDED BY THE SUNSHINE SOCIETY

The Xenia Sunshine Society asks the public to save all the colored sheets of "Bringing Up Father," also any interesting facts, bits of wit and humor, especially as found in the page "That Reminds Me," as printed in the Ladies' Home Journal, or any items of noted people, as "The Personal Page" in that magazine. These pages have been printed for several years so perhaps some of the ladies may be glad to do their part by looking over back numbers of this magazine. Any other interesting bits of wit and humor found in other magazines, so it is printed on good paper, will be appreciated. Also interesting pictures of outdoor life, such as animals, pretty scenes of homes and gardens, colored pages in floral catalogues, anything to interest our wounded soldiers in the hospitals. No stories are wanted, as the boys seem to like pictures best. It is for this reason a special plea is made for "Bringing Up Father" for several sets for these compose a scrap book intermingled with bits of facts, wit and humor, or a few witty pieces of poetry.

The Sunshine Society through its County President, Mrs. Houston Cherry, has received word from several hospitals in the east, that they can use all the scrap books which the society can make. These are especially needed in some of the isolation wards where it is difficult to keep going the occupational work. The society will be grateful for all the help along this line, as it expects to continue making these books as long as needed. Anything for the society for these scrap books, may be marked "For the Xenia Sunshine Society" and left at the Boring Book store on South Detroit street. If any of the young high school girls would like to help in the scrap book work, they could notify Mrs. Cherry, and she will arrange to meet them at the Red Cross rooms one afternoon each week. This is a splendid work and will mean much to cheer the wounded and sick soldiers.

$500 more than the price of a Maxwell will buy you mere size only

FOR a Maxwell has every single modern device that any car selling within $500 of its price possesses.

The only thing an extra $500 will procure is size—a few inches of wheelbase, 2 inches of tire, 50 pounds more of engine, and 5 or 10 other things that a $20 note would easily cover.

Then you run the risk of not getting as good a car as a Maxwell.

For it is one thing to build a 10,000 a year car and another to build a 50,000 a year car.

The chances are in favor by far of finding the real merit in the latter.

The Maxwell has a record run of 300,000— all of one model—behind it.

That means sureness of design, freedom from "temperament," reliability plus, economy for certain, and always a ready market value.

A larger car costs more to maintain. A smaller car has less luxury.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY STILL A PERSONAL PLAY- THING.

(From Detroit Free Press.)

A call has been issued for a meeting of the Democratic national committee May 26. It is probable that Mr. Wilson will communicate some of his ideas and commands to the committee at that time, and in consequence the gathering may be has been looked upon as the first move by the "ins" in the next presidential campaign. It may become incumbent on the committeemen to outline—or of acceptance—a party platform and to O.
E. Edwards' choice of himself or Ella C. of someone else as a standard bearer.
All this, of course, is on the assumption that Mr. Wilson has not lost the stranglehold on his party which has made the national Democratic committee, the state central committee and the local committees his bond slaves for the last six years, and recently moved a public speaker to remark that the Democrats have a leader without a party.

And there is no cause to suppose that Mr. Wilson has lost his grip on his party organization. It is significant that in all the criticism by Democrats of Burlesonism and Bakerism and Southern sectionalism, there has been no talk of a revolt against Mr. Wilson except through revolt from the Democratic party. Whatever there is left of the party seems to be left to Mr. Wilson.

OUR TRANSATLANTIC FLYERS.

When the giant American hydroaeroplanes sped away over the broad Atlantic, they entered upon a course not only carefully charted, but patrolled by rescue and repair ships
all the way to the Portuguese coast.

Looking upon the cruise not as a sporting venture, nor as an attempt merely to win for the United States the honor of the first transatlantic air flight, but as an undertaking for the advancement of science and seamanship, the American navy placed its own vast resources at the disposal of the aviators, and enlisted those of other government departments in an effort to assure the safety of the crews and to reduce to a minimum the element of chance in the project.
A flotilla of destroyers, re-enforced by battleships whose more powerful wireless equipment was intended to pick up messages from the fliers in case the radio sets of the smaller vessels failed to function, formed a chain of communication across the Atlantic. The fleet will remain on station until the birdmen have passed, the destroyers so close together that an hour's steaming would bring one of them to the alighting place of any of the aircraft forced to descend. Mother ships, tenders and other naval units, at intervals along the course, have mechanics, tools, extra parts and gasoline aboard, ready to give aid which would make possible resumption of its journey by a plane put out of commission by slight defects.

ANTIOCH COLLEGE HAS PLEASURE OF BEATING ST. MARYS

Antioch college enjoyed the distinction of defeating St. Marys of Dayton, for the first time this season, when the Yellow Springs outfit won over its old rivals at Antioch Saturday afternoon, the score being 2-0.

Although Little star moundsman
for the Antioch crowd was hit freely, he kept his hits scattered and resorted to the strike out plan when in danger. Costly errors on the part of the Saints also contributed to the victory of the Yellow Springs lads. Little whiffled 13 of the visiting batsmen.

Antioch got the drop on the visitors when they scored once in the first inning, "Scoop" Vannorsdall of this city stepping in front of one of Hetzel's fast shoots, and taking his base. He went to second on a passed ball and scored on a hit by Wallace. In the third they tallied again when Little was safe on Donovan's error, took second on an error by Mayl and scored on a hit.

The Saints were only dangerous in the ninth, when Sanders and O'Hearn sent in but for McCarthy and Mayl each hit safely, but they were left on the bags. The line up: Antioch—C.

YOUNG MAN BROODS OVER DRAFT AND BECOMES INSANE

Derangement of the mind which commenced over a year ago, when he began to worry because he had been drafted for the army, resulted in the commitment to the Dayton State Hospital of Perry Weller, 24 years old, a son of Allen Weller, a farmer living near Bellbrook.

The young man was adjudged insane by Judge J. C. Marshall Monday morning. Young Weller was a patient for some time at a sanatorium near Dayton, and was partially restored to mental health, but recently his derangement returned in a more serious form, and his family grew afraid that he would do harm to some one.

True Beauty.
A beautiful thing should be done beautifully. A beautiful life should be beautiful in appearance as well as sound at the core. Virtue gets many a scolding and becomes well hated because the virtue does not extend to outward trifles, of seemingly small importance, yet so important actually. An ugly word can spoil a lovely action;
an ungracious manner can utterly mar
a kindly deed. We must always beware of the ugly; it reveals that there is something wrong. Persons of no great worth, perhaps selfish at heart, yet contrive to be liked and to bring cheerfulness to others, because they do not scorn the externals. They speak pleasantly, whatever they may feel, and the small kindnesses they may do appear bigger because of the mode of doing.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

NEIL ACCUSES BARBARA OF TAKING THE LETTER. CHAPTER XCII.

At ten aunt excused herself and returned. I sat in the library, pretending to read until half past twelve, and then I too went to my room. It might be three or four o'clock before Neil would be home. I was tired, and in spite of my anxiety I soon fell asleep and did not waken when Neil came in.
He was up even earlier than usual
I could see that he was not entirely at ease, although he did his best to disguise the fact. In view of what Frederick had said, and the letter
Mrs. Orton had written, I imagined it had something to do with the business of the preceding night; that things had not gone to his satisfaction.

The postman came while we were at breakfast, and immediately he left Neil commenced to speak about the slow delivery of city letters. I trembled with apprehension. Was he about to tell of the letter which he should have had the day before? But he said nothing, save in a general way, and once more I breathed freely.

After he left for the office I was derided about the house, too nervous to set myself at anything. All I could think of was the attitude Neil would take when he found no letter from Mrs. Orton was at the office. It was too much to hope that no one had noticed it; it had been too prominently displayed on his desk.

Lorraine Norton came over about eleven, and never was I more delighted to see her. She was full of news and we gossiped until luncheon which I had persuaded her to take with us.
She and aunt got along famously together, and made it quite unnecessary for me to exert myself.

"Shall I tell Neil the truth, that took that letter, or shall I deny all knowledge of it?" This question was in my mind all day. I hated to tel-an untruth, especially to Neil. He might never trust me again should he discover it. That blonde girl at his office—had she noticed the letter particularly? If so she would be sure to tell him; sure to put the blame of its loss upon me. Someway I knew that girl did not like me; I did not even respect me because of my actions at the office when Neil was West. Intuitively I felt she would be glad to humiliate me.

"I will tell the truth if he asks me," I said aloud. I was alone in the library. Lorraine had gone, and aunt was dressing for dinner. I had dressed early and hurried down. If Neil came in I preferred to see him alone, always supposing he had missed the letter.

It was only a little after five when I heard his key in the door. I picked up a magazine and tried to act indifferent. Little Robert was sitting on the floor with a picture book.

"Send him away," Neil said sternly.
"I wish to talk to you."
I called the nurse and gave Robert to her. Then as innocently as I could I asked:

"What is it, Neil? Anything happened?"
"Yes, something has happened.
Why did you take a letter from my desk yesterday?" I was not to have the chance to deny taking it. He knew I had.

"Because I recognized the writing," I spoke in a low voice which vainly tried to keep steady.
"That is no reason. What did you do with the letter?"

"Here it is," I had kept it about me, not quite daring to destroy it.
Neil took the letter from me, looked at it, then said in a rage:

"So you opened and read it, did you? You pretend to be so punctilious about what I do, and you stoop to do a thing a servant would not do! I am glad I have found out the sort of a wife I have. Talking to me about what I should not do, what is honorable or dishonorable, and you doing something that the lowest kind of a crook looks down upon.
Opening and reading a letter not intended for you. No—don't speak!
but from this time I absolutely forbid you my office. I have told the bookkeeper and stenographer that you are never to go inside of my private office again. And—"
"You told them that?" scarcely believing.

"I certainly did and emphasized the fact. Another thing! don't you ever dare find fault with anything I choose to do. I never want to hear you preach to me about business methods, or anything else," as he finished he turned and before I could answer went on up to his room.
I had made him despise me, and had learned nothing. It would be a lesson to me. Little did I know what anguish my foolish act was to cause me.

Electrical Currents.

The electrical worker is often called upon to determine whether the current at an outlet is alternating or direct,
and whether the voltage is 110 or 220.
To indicate quickly and easily what kind of current is present a "determinator" has been developed. To operate the instrument it is two plugs, which are of the knife-blade type and constructed to render short circuits or shocks impossible, are placed in contact with the wires or terminals and a button at the bottom of the determinator is pressed. Then, should the current be direct, and letters "D. C." appear within one of the circles at the top of the device, while if the alternating current is present "A. C."
shows up in the other circle. The brilliancy of the lights back of the letters indicates whether the voltage is 110 or 220.

ROBERT J. LONG BECOMES PRINTING INSTRUCTOR AT HOME

Robert J. Long, of Dayton, has been appointed instructor in printing and the linotype at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, and commenced work Monday.

Mr. Long, who has been employed one of the Dayton newspapers, fills a three months ago of A. F. First. Although the printing pupils have been without an instructor during that period, they have continued their work themselves, and have kept up all their job work, but discontinued temporarily, the publication of the Home Weekly. The little paper will make its re-appearance at once.

To Remove Tight Ring.
Pass the end of a piece of fine twine underneath the ring and wind it evenly around the finger upward as far as the middle joint. Then take hold of the lower end of the string beneath the ring and begin to slowly unwind upward, when the ring will gradually move along the twine toward the tip of the finger and come off. Always hold the hand upright when trying to remove a ring.

RECEIVES NEWS OF SISTER'S DEATH

C. O. Blackmore of West Market street has received the sad news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, who passed away at her home 814 E. Rawlings street, Washington, C. H.

The death is the second in the family within eleven days. Miss Anna Blackmore, another sister, dying May 5, at the home of the late Mrs. Miller. The two sisters had been making their home together.

Mrs. C. O. Blackmore had been with the sisters for the last eight weeks, and Mrs. Wm. Dews of New Richmond, Ohio, an only surviving sister and a brother, J. D. Blackmore were also with them. Miss Blackmore had visited here a number of times and had a number of friends here. Mrs. Miller was buried in the family lot in Washington Cemetery
Monday afternoon.

Tail of the Fox.

One of the most notable features of the fox is his large and massive tail writes John Burroughs. Seen running on the snow at a distance, his tail is quite as conspicuous as his body; and, so far as appearing a burden, seems to contribute to his lightness and buoyancy. It softens the outline of his movements, and repeats or continues to the eye the ease and poise of his carriage.

The World's Next Step

NO. 4
The League of Nations and the Monroe Doctrine

By CLARENCE L. SPEED
(Written for and Approved by the Illinois Branch of League to Enforce Peace.)

Apprehension, real or pretended, that the cherished Monroe Doctrine will be signed away if the United States becomes a party to the league of nations, as it is now proposed, is one of the grounds of opposition to the league in the senate.

The Monroe Doctrine was enunciated at a time when reaction was in the saddle in Europe. Napoleon had been crushed and ancient dynasties were being re-established on the thrones which had been overturned following the French revolution. The infant republic in America was surrounded by the possessions of powerful European states.

With the exception of the struggling republic in America there was hardly any place where the spirit of democracy seemed to survive. President Monroe felt the isolation not only of this nation but of the democratic spirit which it represented, and gave voice to the doctrine that no European state should be permitted to obtain further territory on this continent. He feared that the establishment of monarchical forms of government any nearer our borders might make the overthrow of democracy complete.

The right of the United States to take this position of guardian of a hemisphere was never admitted by the European nations, but Europe was busy with its own affairs and in the early days the Monroe Doctrine was not challenged.

Time passed. Mexico and Central and South American countries threw off the yokes of Spain and Portugal. Democracy progressed in Europe. The British government was liberalized. France became a republic, then an empire, and then once more a republic. With the exception of the German menace, which was not recognized until the war broke out, Europe seemed to have no territorial designs on America.

But the Monroe Doctrine grew and grew. From being a protection against the aggression of monarchy which might overthrow democracy in the United States, it came to be interpreted as involving a duty of this country to protect the little Latin-American republics from punishment for reprehensible acts such as repudiation of debts or violence to the persons or property of foreigners residing in their borders.

We were placing ourselves in the position of being made the policeman whose duty it was to make the little republics be good by force or ourselves to fight other nations which might attempt to protect the rights of their citizens. Can anyone imagine any foreign entanglement more likely to involve us in war than this? It will be remembered how near we came to war with England once on this account; and just before the world war broke out it began to seem pretty plain that we either would have to enforce order in Mexico or stand aside and see some other nation do it.

However, except that the Monroe Doctrine was sometimes used to stir up jingoism in national campaigns, it had really played little part in American thought in recent years. In fact, our assumed rights under it were abrogated in some twenty arbitration treaties which we signed with England, France, Russia and other nations in 1913 and the years following, and no one even noticed it. These treaties agreed that the United States and the other nations signing them should "submit all disputes whatsoever to arbitration." These disputes were just as likely—probably more so—to involve the Monroe Doctrine as anything else. And under the treaties we would have had to submit them to an international body much like that provided for in the league of nations.

But, though we had signed away our rights under the Monroe Doctrine, the league of nations, while it does not mention this American principle specifically, in reality does recognize it by virtue of recognizing the fundamental principle underlying it; and this is the first general recognition it has ever had.

The Monroe Doctrine asserted that no country would be allowed to grab territory on this continent without getting into trouble with us. The league of nations provides that no nation shall be allowed to grab territory anywhere in the world without getting into trouble with all the members of the league. Obviously this applies to America as well as any other country.

The result is that we, instead of having all the burden of enforcing the Monroe Doctrine against the world, now will have the world pledged to help us support it against any nation which seeks to grab land.

Apparently this, instead of dragging us into a foreign entanglement, helps us out of our one hereditary foreign entanglement which might threaten us with war over a matter in which we had little or no concern.

And what if the league should fail? What if all the other nations should suddenly decide to combine to overwhelm an offending state on the American continent?

That would mean simply that we would be right back where we are now. We could either assume the duty of chastising the offender ourselves, sit by and see someone else do it, or go to war to prevent proper punishment being meted out. That's all we can do now.

GRANITE MONUMENT VALUED AT $10,000 TO BE GIVEN AS PRIZE

H. P. Wolfe, state director of the War Savings Stamp Campaign, has advised M. J. Hartley-Greene county chairman of the War Stamp campaign, that a Granite Victory Shaft, a present of the Granite Manufacturers Association of Barre, Vt. will be given to the county in the state of Ohio that attains the largest percentage of its War Savings Stamp quota between June 1 and Aug. 31.

The telegram from Mr. Wolfe is as follows:

"To assist you in securing active co-operation of workers in your county and to launch women's drive in June under most favorable conditions we will present through the generosity of the Granite Manufacturers' association of Barre, Vt. a magnificent victory shaft, hewn from solid granite of the Green Mountains, valued at ten thousand dollars and dimensions, thirty feet high and six feet square at base, to the county in Ohio attaining largest percentage of its War Savings Stamp quota between June one and August 31. This beautifully designed and appropriate inscribed shaft will stand like the pyramids of Egypt a lasting monument to the glorious service of soldiers and sailors and permanent testimonial of the patriotic response of people of your county to country's call for men, money and service during the World War. Every county has equal opportunity. Please advise all organizations in your county."

His Ultimate End.

The children were discussing a famous soldier, when four-year-old Benny asked: "Who is he, anyway?" "Well," replied wise first-grade Harold, "he's a wonderful brave man now, after awhile he'll be a statue."

DISCOURAGED

You have tried everything. It's the same old story. I hear it everyday. Your courage is gone, your faith is gone. The end would be gladly welcomed. But even that won't come. What would you give to be a well man—a well woman? What wouldn't you give? Worse cases, perhaps than yours are yielding as if by magic to this subtle power. Why not your case? I will leave it to your intelligence and good judgment. Slaves to mock or false modesty, you deserve to suffer. 95 per cent of the supposed incurable cases could be relieved physically and mentally, if they would only confess it to a friend, family, or better a skilled physician. Don't argue I've tried electricity with no results—you may have no idea what an up-to-date electrically equipped institution really is.

IF I ONLY KNEW JUST WHAT AILS ME.

How often have you made this remark? Yet you continue to suffer, hesitating to seek a cure. You consider that medical attention would be too expensive, or, perhaps, are you dissatisfied with past treatment. Remember, all the wishing, hoping and praying never cured any real physical ailment. Then, why continue to grope in the dark, suffering pain, discomfort and dissatisfaction? An X-ray examination will cost you out one dollar and is considered by the medical profession as one of the greatest aids to a correct diagnosis. If your case is not incurable you can be treated in one of the most completely equipped offices in the Middle West. 25 years' experience.

GOITRE

Removed for this Springfield, Ohio, Girl by External Remedy.

Mr. Frank Beard, 1610 Karr street, Springfield, says in her own home paper the Springfield Daily News: "For four years I have been suffering from a goitre standing for my daughter, five years ago, and it has never bothered her since. It enlarged her neck 15 inches and made her a nervous wreck. We despaired for her life. It took less than one bottle to restore her to good health. I am glad to tell any one our experience, even by letter." Sorbol-Quadruple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate the skin. After the goitre is removed, the parts are left in a beautiful normal condition. Requires ten minutes daily. Carpet Snakes.
The carpet-snake is a good climber, says a correspondent in the Sydney Bulletin, as any poultry keeper in the bush knows. I found one under the ridge-capping of a roof, where there were only straight walls to get up. It also got on to the roosts at night after chooks even when the ladder had been taken away, said roosts being laid across from the top of one wall to another. Climbing a tree, which a snake can encircle, is a comparatively easy job to that. The carpet has two fairly strong claws attached to rudimentary legs, and I can only surmise that it uses these in getting up a straight slab wall.

WOMEN TO SHAPE WORLD COMMERCE, SAYS MRS. GOULD

Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould.

Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould, president of the Woman's Chamber of Commerce, Chicago, believes that women are to play a most important part in impending trade developments. Mrs. Gould who has traveled all over the world and seen the homes of natives in almost every land says, "Women spend more than two-thirds of the money that goes into the trade of the world and their understanding of each other's needs is far better than that possessed by men, therefore women hold the balance of power in foreign trade and commerce."

Japanese Restaurants.

In Tokyo there are restaurants old and new; the old, established generations ago, which specialize in one or other particular dainty; the chief establishments of this character will be found in Hurt-by-Eating lane, Nihombashi; the new, an endless medley of cheap foreign-food restaurants, beer halls and saloons. A large part of the commercial population depends for its midday meal on these places. The official population also has to be provided for, and lately a municipal official has suggested the establishment of municipal dining rooms in all the centers of Tokyo. Food would be provided by an officially established market.

No Fear of Lock Jaw

With This Healing Antiseptic Liniment

Scratches or wounds from rusty nails, tin, wire, or brass, and cuts or bruises where the dirt or metal is ground in, oftentimes prove serious, when healing, antiseptic Houstonia Liniment is not at hand. Safety counsels you to keep a bottle of this old-time liniment ready for every emergency.

Do not risk being without it. Say "House-tone-ah" to your druggist. You can get it in 25c or 50c bottles.

"The Kind Your Daddy Used With My Dad's Picture on the Yellow Wrapper."

"The Dr. J. C. Jones Co., Gentlemen:—Some time ago I stepped on a rusty nail which extended halfway through my foot. Having used your LINIMENT for several years and knowing it to be a wonderful antiseptic, I immediately applied it to the wound and bandaged the foot. In a short time the pain got easier and next morning I was surprised at being able to put on my shoe and walk. After five days I did not limp and the wound healed nicely. People who use HOUSTONIA LINIMENT for such wounds do not need to fear lock jaw.—Dean McKelup, S. Charleston, O."

THE DR. J. C. JONES COMPANY, So. Charleston, Ohio.
Houstonia Liniment is sold in Xenia by Sohn's Drug Store, Sayre & Hemphill, D. D. Jones and A. C. Hawkins.

CLIFTON

Antioch College students had their annual May walk to the cliffs here last Friday.

The Clifton Schools closed Thursday, May 15th, with a very pleasing program by the elementary grades at the opera house.

The eighth grade graduated five boys and two girls into the high school.

A musical program was given by the high school pupils.

Dr. Grant Perkins, President of Antioch College will be the speaker at the 23rd Annual Reception of Clifton High School Alumni Association to be held in the K. of P. Hall Friday evening, May 23rd, at 8 o'clock.

The Presbyterian Church has received a beautiful banner sent out by the General Assembly to those churches exceeding a certain amount in the New Era Movement.

Dr. Webster of the Xenia Theological Seminary occupied the U. P. pulpit last Sunday in the absence of the pastor.

The property on Water street belonging to the Bretain heirs is advertised for sale at $350.00.

Mrs. Peter Knott has returned home after spending two weeks in Cedarville with her daughter, Mrs. Leo Anderson.

Messrs. Mac Anderson and Ralph Ault who have been overseas have arrived in New York and are expected home before long.

Moving pictures sent out by the Home Service Department of the Red Cross were enjoyed by many at the opera house last Friday night. Music was furnished by the Clifton Orchestra.

Caviare.

Nearly everyone is aware that caviare is the salted roe of the sturgeon, a fish caught in great numbers off the south coast of Russia. The large-grained caviare, made from the roe of the largest species of that fish, is considered the best. Some of the sturgeons weigh as much as 3,000 pounds, measure from 18 to 27 feet in length, and yield a roe weighing 800 pounds. The fish should be caught some months before spawning time, while the roe is hard and light gray in color. As it gets softer and darker it becomes less and less suitable for preparing caviare; and when it is quite ripe it is completely useless for the purpose.

UNPATRIOTIC USE OF OLD GLORY

Here is a new unpatriotic use for the flag!

When the cold weather of a few days ago threatened frost and possible destruction of the flowers, one family removed the flag from the front porch where it had been serving a patriotic service, and draped it over the plants to prevent freezing.

The good old flag has been accorded so much respect, especially during the war that its lowly and mercenary usage, was quite a shock to more patriotic pedestrians who witnessed it.

Clown and Pantaloon.

According to a little book on symbolism which Lady Glenconner had privately printed for her friends, the harlequinade is of sacred origin: The orients through which the harlequin (who is the Unknown) and columbine (the Soul) pass are the tribulations of the spirits in the material phase of existence. The clown represents the world and the pantaloon the body. Possibly, many clowns and pantaloons all over the country are unaware of this.

PILES RELIEVED

Also Eczema, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Old Sores and Carbuncles.

Under the influence of San Cura Ointment surprising improvement is made so quickly that it seems almost miraculous.

Stubborn cases of piles like those of Rev. W. F. Gilbert of Titusville, Pa., vanish before the marvelous antiseptic Ointment. Mr. Gilbert writes:

"For twenty years I suffered with bleeding and itching piles; at times I was confined to the house for more than a month. Two years ago I began using San Cura Ointment and one 60c jar made a firm and permanent cure. I have not been troubled since."

San Cura Ointment is guaranteed by Sayre & Hemphill, who are the agents in Xenia, to help any of the above named diseases or money back. It relieves pain from burns, cuts and bruises, draws out the poison and often heals in a short time. 30c, 60c and $1.20 a jar at Sayre & Hemphill's.

GOOD BABY SOAP

San Cura Soap is a healing and antiseptic soap; just the soothing kind that baby needs. It frees the pores from impurities and prevents rashes and other skin diseases. Fine for any pimples, clears the complexion. 25c a cake at Sayre & Hemphill's.

LIBERTY WAS SHORT LIVED FOR ANNIE

Liberty was short lived for "Big Annie Johnson, colored, who was released from the work house on habeas corpus proceedings Monday after she had been sent there to work out a fine of $500 and costs, imposed by Police Judge Smith some time ago on a bootlegging charge.

No sooner had "Big Annie" taxied up from the works at her own expense, than she was arrested on a warrant sworn out at police quarters and sentenced to the Woman's Reformatory at Marysville, Ohio. She was taken there Monday by Deputy Sheriff Birch.

"Big Annie" was sentenced a year ago on a bootlegging charge. She appealed the case and when the higher courts sustained the judgment of Police Court the case was referred back to that court, Judge Smith committing her to the works at once. On habeas corpus proceedings brought by her attorney, F. L. Johnson, she was released from the works, the law stating that a woman can not be sentenced to stay that long in a work house. "Big Annie" hired a taxi to bring her up town but she was soon in the toils of the law again.

EVER HAVE IT?

If You Have, the Statement of This Xenia Citizen Will Interest You.

Ever have a "low-down" pain in the back? In the "small," right over the hips? That's the home of backache. If it's caused by weak kidneys, Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Xenia people testify to their worth. Read a case of it:

Charles Gorham, painter, 12 S. Mechanic St., Xenia, says: "Kidney trouble started with a dull ache in the small of my back and kept getting worse until sharp pains kept shooting through my body. I lay the trouble to a cold which settled on my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills soon helped me and after I had used them about a week, I was cured. I have been free from those aches and pains and other symptoms for two years."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Gorham had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

"A MAN MAY BE DOWN BUT HE'S NEVER OUT"

"A man may be down but he's never out."

This is the slogan of the Salvation Army, which launched a campaign for a Home Service Fund of $13,000,000 Monday, of which Greene County has a quota of $5,000.

Well advertised by all overseas soldiers, the Salvation Army Campaign is probably the most popular of any launched during the war. The Salvation Army lassie has endeared herself to the American doughboys, because she worked untiringly for their comfort, whether in the army camps or on the battle front in France.

Now, with debts hanging over from the tremendous work they carried on overseas, the Salvation Army is hoping to right itself again with this fund, and also to secure a sum to reconstruct its social work among the poorer classes in this country. In this little inland city, we do not see the work of the Salvation Army as it is carried on in the larger cities, and we are depending a great deal upon the soldier boy, for testimonials of the work of the organizations. But in the cities where the poor class of people present a problem that is beyond the ability of the public to solve, the Salvation Army steps in and takes care of the matter as quietly as possible.

No man is down so low but what he can be saved, according to the Salvation Army, and their workers reach down into the very depths of the slums or the underworld of the large cities, administering, giving hope and promise, and reclaiming a soul that seemed lost forever.

It is no respecter of differences or social status. A man's man while he has life and with the help of the great army of workers, the organization has reached and done good to thousands of homeless and needy.

Now, it comes appealing for funds with which to carry on this great work, and who has the heart to turn it down. The campaign here will be worked strenuously and you want to be ready to "dig" and "dig" generously on Thursday, the big day of the drive.

Peculiar Hawaiian Flowers.

It is known that upon many of the summits of the high mountain ridges of the Hawaiian Islands, in the regions of heavy rainfall, are open bogs which support a peculiar and interesting flora. Many species form more or less hemispherical tussocks which rise above the general level of the bog. A showy lobelia with numerous large cream-colored flowers as much as three and a half inches long, peculiar violets and a sundew are found there.

WEALTHY WIDOW WOULD WED AGAIN

"Now that my stomach trouble has all disappeared since taking a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I would even consider getting married again. I cannot tell you how terribly I suffered before taking this great remedy." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill and druggists everywhere. adv

THEATERS

BIJOU.
A screen classic that critics have placed in the same category with "The Birth of a Nation," and "Hearts of the World," has been produced by Allen Holubar, under the title of "The Heart of Humanity," and will be exhibited at the Bijou Theater Wednesday and Thursday.

"The Heart of Humanity" is a motion picture history of woman's part in the great war, depicted in story form and built around the romance of a little Canadian girl who gave her husband to fight against Prussian autocracy and then went to France herself to care for the wounded and orphaned and homeless victims of German brutality. Dorothy Phillips has the leading role, supported by William Stowell, Robert Anderson, Pat O'Malley, Margaret Mann and Walt Whitman.

ORPHIUM.
"Roped" a new Universal triumph, offers both thrills and comedy in its original plot of picture story which will be shown at the Orphium Theater Wednesday.

Harry Carey and his cowboys swoop down on New York to rescue Harry's child, who is in the hands of his dowager mother-in-law. The cowpunchers have to don evening clothes to make the play along the Great White Way and here the comedy. The production offers Harry Carey, Neva Gerber, Molly McConnell, Arthur Shirley and J. Farrell McDonald.

Only "Key to Health."
Writing on the subject of pneumonia, one of the scientists of the Rockefeller institute said that most people have the pneumonia germ in their throats at all times and that the reason the disease does not develop is because the system is strong enough to resist the germs. Evidently the key to health lies in determining what constitutes "resistance" to disease and how this condition may be attained and maintained. The usual prescription for "building up" or increasing "resistance" and vitality is fresh air, exercise and "plenty of good, nourishing food."

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-THREE SALOONS TO BE OPEN MAY 26

Columbus, May 20.—Just 160 saloons in Ohio will be open next Monday, where liquor can be purchased lawfully, according to the announcement of the state license board.

They are located in 22 counties of the state.

For China Collectors.
It is well to keep a china collection of one kind or period together, if possible, the effect being thereby greatly enhanced; indeed, the same thing applies to most collections. When the collections are numerous and space not overabundant, there is a good deal to be said for the plan of putting some things away for a time and bringing others out in their place. Collectors generally enjoy handling and rearranging their treasures, and every change may result in showing these to greater advantage.

MORE SERIOUS NOW

Than Ever Before Because of War Reduced Reserve Strength.

The war has been far-reaching in its effects. It has caused worry and anxiety in every home, and has affected the health of every family. It has aggravated chronic troubles, increased their tenacity, and made all Spring ailments more serious.

As a result, a blood-purifying, stomach-toning Spring medicine is more necessary this year than ever.

People still take Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it is an old family friend, has proved its merit to three generations—as a Spring and all-the-year-round medicine in purifying the blood, expelling humors, restoring appetite, relieving rheumatism, banishing that tired feeling.

It combines roots, barks, herbs, and berries often prescribed by physicians for Spring ailments of the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys. Hood's Pills are a good cathartic. adv
